

WANG
v
KIM
[2023] HCASL 206
S104/2023

1 This application for special leave to appeal from a judgment of the Full Court of the Federal Court of Australia (Lee and Jackman JJ, Moshinsky J dissenting) raises no question of general principle sufficient to warrant the grant of special leave to appeal. The division in the Full Court turned on the application of established principles to the facts.

2 Special leave to appeal is refused with costs.
