

GITTANY
v
THE KING
[2026] HCADisp 117
S177/2025

1 The applicant requires an extension of time within which to seek special leave to appeal from the whole of the judgment of the Court of Criminal Appeal of New South Wales (Basten JA, with whom RA Hulme and Fagan JJ agreed), which dismissed an appeal against conviction from a judgment of the Supreme Court of New South Wales (McCallum J), which had found the applicant guilty of murder.

2 The application for special leave to appeal does not raise a point of principle and does not have sufficient prospects of success for it to be in the interests of the administration of justice for special leave to appeal to be granted. It would therefore be futile to grant the extension of time that is sought.

3 Special leave to appeal is refused.
